New York State Education Department-New York State P-12 Science Learning Standards Implementation Roadmap:

An Overview and Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Overview

The Board of Regents adopted the New York State P-12 Science Learning Standards (NYS P-12 SLS) in December 2016 after a several year state-wide collaborative process. Initial transition began July 2017.

The New York State P-12 Science Learning Standards Implementation Roadmap has been designed to assist and support educators in school districts and other key stakeholders with the transition process leading to full-implementation of the learning standards. The roadmap provides a recommended plan spread-over the next several years that high) How is the Roadmap organized?

For key component areas, each goal is supported by objectives and activities from the Statewide Strategic Plan for Science

. This roadmap outlines those items to assist in the transition to the new standards. It serves as a tool that can be adapted by stakeholders at all levels. The New York State P-12 Science Learning Standards Implementation Roadmap is organized into three through the development of the Statewide Strategic Plan for Science which was approved by the New York State Board of Regents , January 2015 . Several science stake-holder groups and educators and other stakeholders of some of the networks doing work towards standards implementation. Local school districts, science stakeholder groups, P-16 educators, as well as the

3) How will we know that we have accomplished the goals and activities in the Roadmap?

The Roadmap "Stakeholder Group Actions" column includes space for each district/school/stakeholder group(s) to add in specific local, regional and State level action steps to be taken to address the key implementation activities in the Roadmap. This column will vary based on local, regional and organizational need. Many school districts, BOCES, science professional organizations, and other science stakeholder groups may have resources to support and facilitate the development hn

New York State Education Department, play an important role in implementing the goals, objectives and activities with actions specific to their locale.