

Commentary

Our work continues

By Betty Rosa
Regents Chancellor

As we enter the new school year, I am excited to see the work we have done over the past year and the work we will continue to do in the coming year. I am proud of the progress we have made in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. I am also proud of the work we have done to support our students and our teachers. I am excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

As we enter the new school year, I am excited to see the work we have done over the past year and the work we will continue to do in the coming year. I am proud of the progress we have made in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. I am also proud of the work we have done to support our students and our teachers. I am excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

As we enter the new school year, I am excited to see the work we have done over the past year and the work we will continue to do in the coming year. I am proud of the progress we have made in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. I am also proud of the work we have done to support our students and our teachers. I am excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

The work we have done over the past year has been a testament to the power of public school leadership. We have made significant progress in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. We have also made significant progress in supporting our students and our teachers. We are excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

The work we have done over the past year has been a testament to the power of public school leadership. We have made significant progress in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. We have also made significant progress in supporting our students and our teachers. We are excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

The work we have done over the past year has been a testament to the power of public school leadership. We have made significant progress in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. We have also made significant progress in supporting our students and our teachers. We are excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

I am excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year. We are proud of the progress we have made in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. We are also proud of the work we have done to support our students and our teachers. We are excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

I am excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year. We are proud of the progress we have made in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. We are also proud of the work we have done to support our students and our teachers. We are excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

I am excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year. We are proud of the progress we have made in implementing the ESSA and the new standards for learning. We are also proud of the work we have done to support our students and our teachers. We are excited to see the work we will continue to do in the coming year.

Regents Chancellor Betty Rosa visits PS 69 in the Bronx on the first day of school.
Photo courtesy of the State Education Department