

THE STATE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT UNIVERSITY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK / ALBANY, NY 12234

preschool student with a disability who attends an early childhood program (e.g., a regular preschool program, a day care or Head Start program).

Related services are developmental, corrective and other support services as are required to assist a student with a disability. Related services must be provided by appropriately certified or licensed individuals pursuant to Part 80 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education. Related services include, but are not limited to, speech-language pathology, audiology, interpreting services, psychological services, physical therapy, occupational therapy, counseling services (including rehabilitation counseling), orientation and mobility services, evaluative and diagnostic medical services to determine if a student has a medically related disability, parent counseling and training, school health services, school social work, assistive technology services, appropriate access to recreation, including therapeutic recreation, other appropriate developmental or corrective support services, and other appropriate support services and includes the early identification and assessment of disabling conditions in students. Related services do not include a medical device that is surgically implemented, or the replacement of the device.

Roles and Responsibilities

The implementation of the State's preschool special education program, funded on a fiscally sound, cost-effective basis, depends on collaboration and coordination among school districts, approved preschool special education programs, related service providers and municipalities.

I. School District Committees on Preschool Special Education (CPSE) Responsibilities

The CPSE provides for the evaluation of a preschool child to determine his/her eligibility for preschool special education programs and services and if the child is determined eligible, to develop an individualized education program (IEP). If a preschool child with a disability is recommended to receive SEIT and/or related services, in addition to other required information, the IEP must include the following:

- x the name of the approved preschool special education program provider and related service provider from the lists developed and maintained by municipalities and provided to school districts, pursuant to sections 200.16(f)(2) and 4410(5)(b)(ii); and
- x the frequency¹ (i.e., how often), duration (i.e., length of each session), intensity (i.e., group² or individual) and location (i.e., setting) for each program and/or related service recommended.

Generally, SEIT and related services are scheduled to be provided in separate time periods (e.g., half-hour sessions). Based on the needs of individual students, the CPSE may recommend that SEIT and related services be provided simultaneously, within the same time period, to meet the unique needs of the preschool child. In this case, the IEP of the preschool child should specify that it is necessary to deliver the two services at the same time. An example of this would be a recommendation for a physical therapist to provide direction or assistance related to the appropriate positioning of a preschool child during a session of SEIT or another related service such as speech therapy.

II. Approved Preschool Special Education Itinerant Teacher Programs and Related Service Provider Responsibilities

To ensure that SEIT and related services are provided in an efficient and cost effective manner, approved preschool special education program and related service providers must:

- x provide preschool children with disabilities the special education programs and services at the frequency, duration and intensity specified in their IEPs;
- x establish a schedule, including beginning and ending dates and program closings, for legal holidays and periods of vacation;
- x maintain and make attendance registers available for inspection by appropriate personnel of the State Education Department (SED), the municipality and the school district in which each preschool child resides. Documentation of the provision of service, consistent with the IEP, for enrolled preschool children with disabilities and for those receiving related services only must be kept for seven years after the end of the school year in which programs and services are provided. Providers must ensure that these records contain the correct starting and ending dates of programs and services;
- x document and communicate with CPSEs when students have excessive, frequent and/or regular absences that impact a child's receipt of services as required by their IEPs, including:
 - o the reasons for such absences, and
 - o the steps the provider agency has taken to address such absences; 25f-0.0003 Tc 0.17s

- x information to be provided to the municipality at certain times or under certain circumstances, or upon the request of the municipality; and
- x information to be available for review or audit by the municipality.

Municipalities must also establish and maintain internal controls regarding payments for programs and services to determine and ensure that:

- x records of SEIT and related service sessions include the beginning and ending dates of service provision, as required in the student's IEP, as well as the sessions for which payments are made, including documentation of service provision consistent with the student's IEP.
- x related service providers are paid only for the services provided consistent with the frequency and duration prescribed in the student's IEP.
- x procedures are in place that include, but are not limited to, verifying service billings to attendance records at least on a test basis to ensure that students were present on the days that the related services were claimed to be provided.
